

SOLOFLEX MUSCLE MACHINE

The Soloflex Muscle Machine was designed to perform conventional barbell, free body and pull down exercised. Soloflex does not do anything new, it does all of the standard exercises you'll ever need. It does them better. Also important, it does each exercise correctly in form and balance with a full range of motion. The floating barbell is the key. It provides the balance of free weights PLUS the safety of a machine. Soloflex delivers exactly the same muscle growth and endurance as free weights. It even holds free weights if you want to use them. And you will never need a spotter.

Classic Soloflex with Leg Extension and Butterfly $1550 plus $250 shipping and handling

How it Works

As any spring or elastomer is stretched the force required to keep it moving increases exponentially. The Soloflex barbell arm is a variable geometry lever that increases in leverage exponentially to match the force required. The result-a predictable and constant load to the user.

The best machine design is the one that accomplishes the user's goal with the fewest parts. Soloflex is the most popular and best selling weight machine ever made because it works perfectly for its intended purpose and will still be working 100 years from now.

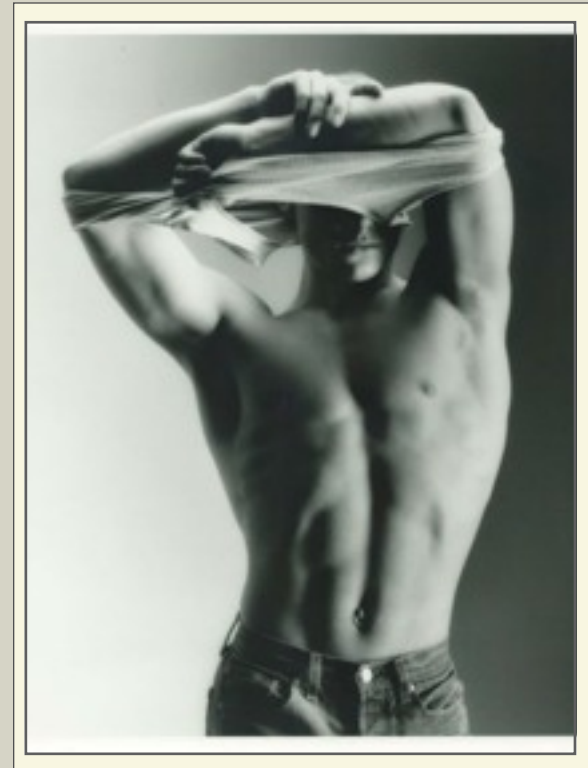

Safety is the most compelling reason to lift weights with a machine. No spotter is ever needed and unlike free weights. We are the safest machine ever.
